Sprint 4 Burndown Chart Analysis

This is the generated burndown chart for Sprint 4. Although we started our sprint on March 24, our sprint period began on March 21. We plan to finish 22 story points worth of tasks during this sprint.

Since our sprint period is roughly the same as the previous two sprints, our velocity is nearly identical to the previous sprint. In the first 2 sprints we were still getting used to the workload and the tech stack, but in these last 2 sprints we have found our footing and got comfortable and thus, have an increased velocity.
